

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Let's review!

Learning Outcome

Identify and describe personal and regional eating habits and cooking in a range of communicative situations.

Ask your partner:

- What traditional foods did you have at holiday time last year?
- Would you have the same things when you were young?
- Have you ever made any traditional foods yourself?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about family traditions, food and cooking.
- I can talk about general and specific quantities.
- I can discuss experiences I've had or haven't had.
- I can talk about past habits.

Let's Explore!

Vanessa is a novice vlogger!

* A "novice" is someone who is new at doing something.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

In this vlog, we are going to build and decorate a gingerbread house.

I used to love to watch my mother cook at Christmas. She would always clear the kitchen table and cover it with a plastic tablecloth. I would help her measure out the ingredients. I used to place each cup of flour, teaspoon of cinnamon and tablespoon of ginger carefully in the bowl.

Yesterday we made the traditional gingerbread dough. I've got a set of pieces here to assemble. I have already made one house as you can see here. I've decorated it with the hard icing, chocolates and of course, the customary pair of candy canes. If you haven't put everything out yet, take the time to do it now.

A lot of people don't eat their gingerbread houses. To me, the only thing better than making a gingerbread house is eating it! On New Year's Day, mother used to cover it with a cloth and smack it with a hammer. My whole family would have gingerbread and tea! Every mouthful was heaven!

Let's Practice!

Vanessa started baking when she was young!

Instructions: Read the sentences. Circle the incorrect words. Write the sentences correctly.

1. I helped my mother made the traditional ginger birth.

_____.

2. I use to place a cup of flower and a teas and spoons of cinnamon into the bowl.

_____.

3. I carefully added the tables of spoons of ginger.

_____.

Let's Practice!

Let's make a gingerbread house with Vanessa!

Instructions: Read the words. Organize the mystery sentences.

1. assemble / to / I've / a / here / got / of / pieces / set

_____.

2. here / I / as / can / see / made / you / house / already / one / have

_____.

3. with / decorated / the / I've / it / icing. / hard

_____.

Extension Activity

Write about your traditions for the holidays.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Make a list of things you do in the holiday season that are traditional for your family.
- Make notes on where, when and why you have done these things.
- Say one thing that you haven't done with your family, but would like to try.
- Now write a paragraph using 100 words talking about your family's traditions in the holiday season.

Self-Assessment

Yes No

I make a list of my family's holiday traditions.

☐ ☐

I make notes on where, when and why we have done these things.

☐ ☐

I note one thing we haven't done.

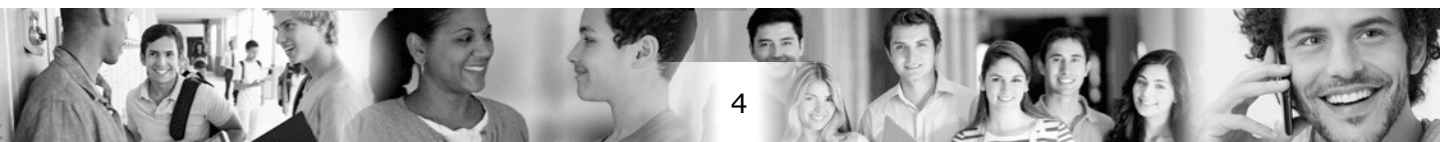

☐ ☐

I write a 100 word paragraph about my family's traditions.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- gingerbread (noun): a cookie that contains ginger
e.g. You made gingerbread houses!
- cinnamon (noun): a spice made from the bark of a tree
e.g. I like cinnamon in my eggnog too!
- mouthful (noun): what fits comfortably in your mouth
e.g. Every mouthful of this dinner is perfect!
- to vlog (verb): to video blog
e.g. I vlog on the internet on my website.
- customary (adjective): usual
e.g. Perfume is a customary gift for women.
- to build (verb): to construct; to make e.g. We built a skating rink in our backyard.
- to decorate (verb): to add something to a thing to make it attractive e.g. We would all decorate the tree together.
- candy cane (noun): a red and white striped peppermint candy
e.g. We put candy canes in our hot chocolate to melt.

Learning Points

Used to and Would to Talk About Past Habits

Used to and would are both used to talk about past actions.

You use used to to say that something happened in the past but doesn't happen any more. It uses -ed to show past tense.

For example: I used to skate every winter.
(Before, I skated every winter, but now I don't skate.)

When we were children, we used to skate all day long.
(Before, we skated all day long, but now we don't skate all day long.)

We use would to talk about both past actions and past routines.

Would refers to actions, rather than situations.

Used to	Would
Mother used to bake at Christmastime.	She would always make several kinds of cookies.
I used to measure out the ingredients.	I would help her.

Examples:

- I used to love to watch my mother cook at Christmas.
- She would always clear the kitchen table and cover it.

Learning Points

The Present Perfect vs. The Simple Past Tense

You use the Present Perfect tense when the action has some relationship to now.

Let's look at some other ways to use the Present Perfect.

Explanation	Example
The Present Perfect is used when the time period has NOT finished.	If you haven't put everything out yet, take the time to do it now.
The Present Perfect is often used when giving recent news.	I have already made one house as you can see here.
The Present Perfect is used when the time is not specific.	I've decorated it with the hard icing and chocolates.

