Let's Start!

It's a family tradition!

Learning Outcome

Identify and describe personal and regional eating habits and cooking in a range of communicative situations.

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about food and cooking.
- I can discuss eating habits.
- I can talk about general and specific quantities.

Ask your partner:

- What traditions do you follow with your family on Christmas or other holiday?
- How long has your family done this?

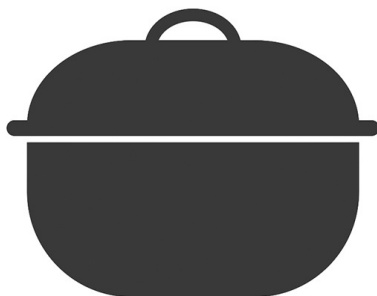

Let's Explore!

Vanessa made mincemeat pie!

* A "mincemeat pie" or mincemeat tarts are sweets made especially at Christmas.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Sally: Peter! Merry Christmas!
Peter: Do I smell mincemeat pie?
Vanessa: Yes, you do. I always bake plenty of sweet treats.
Sally: No diets this week!
Peter: Here are a few gifts for under the tree.
Vanessa: Sit down. The food is almost ready.
Sally: 1 p.m., right on schedule! How do you do that?
Vanessa: Training!
Peter: You laid bunches of holly on the table!
Vanessa: Dig in!
Sally: Mmm. What do you add to your cranberry sauce?
Vanessa: A cup of orange juice and a little ginger.
Sally: Amazing!
Peter: Does this turkey have chestnuts and raisins in it?
Vanessa: Yes. It's roasted with a different type of stuffing.
Peter: There are lots of almonds with the vegetables too!
Vanessa: I sauté them a bit so they're crunchy.
Sally: I've never had nuts with vegetables before! You mixed the yams and potatoes and grilled them right?
Vanessa: Uhm hum.
Peter: Every mouthful is perfect. Vanessa. Some day you are going to be a famous chef!
Vanessa: Thank you.
Sally: Peter! You're having seconds already?
Peter: I haven't eaten for days to be ready for this!
Vanessa: Oh Peter!

Learning Points

The Simple Present Tense

You use the Simple Present tense:

- to talk about things that are always true
- to give general information
- to talk about habits and routines
- with stative verbs like to be, to seem, to feel

You use the Simple Present and the Present Continuous tenses to talk about the present in different ways.

Examples:

- You're right on schedule!
- I always bake plenty of sweet treats.
- I sauté them a bit so they're crunchy!

Quantities and Measures

When you cook, you use measures.

You use a quantifier before a noun to indicate the amount or number of an item. Quantifiers do not indicate a specific quantity but rather a general amount.

Quantifier	Meaning
a/an/one	a single item
some	a general amount
plenty of	more than is needed
lots of	a large amount
a few / a little	a small number or amount
a bunch	a group
a mouthful	enough to fit in the mouth comfortably

Examples:

- You laid bunches of holly on the table!
- Every mouthful is perfect.
- There are lots of almonds with the vegetables too!
